UNIQUE SCENES

And Incidents in the Towns on the Oklahoma Border.

EVERY MAN HAS A WINCHESTER AND SWEARS HE WILL FIGHT.

It is said that the Oklahoma League will Govern the New Territory—Boomers Who Are Not Members Will Have a Poor Show—Secretary Noble Thinks
There Will Be no Trouble.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., April 19.—Of eighty-seven men and several women who were passengers on the south-bound Santa Fe train which arrived Wednesday evening all but four were boomers. Every man had a bottle of whisky, and a double-barreled shotgun, and Winchester rifles were numerous. On the streets of this town nearly every stranger is armed. Many of them carry guns in their hands and cartridge belts strapped around their waists.

BOOMERS WAITING AT PURCELL.

A good many of these walking arsenals look as if they would run at the sound of a shot or faint at the smell of powder, but they have come here with the idea that some sort of a gun is absolutely necessary, and the war-like appearance of the men they meet tends to increase their respect for their own foresight. Every man who speaks at all of his intentions swears that he will have the land he wants and defend it with his life. One hardware firm in Wichita has sold thus far this week 104 Winchester and any number of revolvers.

The Oklahoma League.

Referring to the question of the government of the new Oklahoma territory there is a great deal of talk here of the Oklahoma league. Those who pretend to know say this league is no mythical organization, but a reality, as any boomer who disobeys it will find out. Any man who locates desirable land will have to do it through this league or with the league's consent.

Its members selected their lands fifteen years ago and they now intend to defend each other's claims and make any man suffer who interferes. They have lived in the territory and on the border for years, and have organized so well that no man, or body of men, can afford to run against them.
Every newcomer must join the league or suffer such punishment as they see fit to meto out. In the absence of civil power they will rule.

Trouble Will Result.

Regarding entries of lands, the land office has ruled that first papers or filings shall be received by agents, each given numbers and afterwards numbered in the order of filing.
The order cannot fail to cause trouble. A man can rush to the nearest land office and from the map select a quarter section and file on it, having six months to make settlement.
A second man secures the same quarter section, moves his effects upon it, builds a solid house and begins plowing, having ninety days in which to make his filings. When he

AN OKLAHOMA CABIN.

appears at the land office he finds that the first man has already filed on that land, and a contest and litigation follow.

Sometimes a forcible compromise is effected by giving each claimant eighty acres, and the two men become neighbors, whose morning greetings may be an exchange of courtesies with Winchesters. The town site boomer seems to be left out in the cold. He cannot, under existing conditions, obtain a title to land upon which he proposes to build a town.

Indians Disturbed.

Four hundred and thirty-seven families arrived here Wednesday in wagons, and at least 1,000 persons by the railroads. Trains from the south brought quite a number of Pawnee and One Indians from the reservation south of this city. It seems to have just dawned upon them that the settling of 300,000 people in the heart of the territory means to them a general breaking up of their tribal relations.

Nearly all of them are laying in a store of weapons with which to protect themselves and their homes against the invaders. A leader of the Pawnees said: "Our people are afraid the white people on the Arkansas river will rob us of our homes; but should they pass by and move upon the land sold to the government by the Creeks and Seminoles
there will be no trouble."

A Long Trip.

Two brothers named Southworth have arrived here from Woodstock, Ill., having walked all the way. They have been over a month on the road with their effects strapped on the back of a mule.

Heavy Rains.

Reports received from the Indian Territory state that heavy rains had fallen, and that the rivers were rapidly rising. Grave fears are entertained that the progress of home-seekers in their march to Oklahoma will be seriously impeded, and that the fording of the large streams will be exceedingly dangerous.

Will Have a Newspaper.

IOLA, Kan., April 19.—The first number of the Oklahoma Times will be issued at Oklahoma City on the 25d, by A. C. and W.
W. Scott, formerly of The Register, of this place. The Times will be Republican in politics, and will be printed from a complete steam plant.

An Encounter—Four Killed.

FORT SMITH, Ark., April 19.—An encounter has occurred between a party of boomers and cattlemen on the one side and the Chickasaw police on the other, at the ford on Chisholm's cattle trail across the Canadian river, forty miles west of Oklahoma City.
The cattlemen were taking several head of cattle from Frank Colbert's ranch in the Chickasaw nation to Kansas.

The mounted police guarding the southern border of Oklahoma refused them permission to use the well known Chisholm trail through the new territory, and a fight followed. The cattlemen were re-inforced by a party of boomers from Texas. One policeman, two cattlemen and a boomer named Geiss were killed, besides some valuable horses. The cattlemen finally abandoned the proposed route and took the old Abilene route through the Cheyenne reservation.

Everybody for Himself.

CALDWELL, Kan., April 19.—The settlers here are of a remarkably good class. Most of them have comfortable outfits. The BUSINESS ENTERPRISE.

sound of the violin and banjo proceed from many of the tents, and the tenants have newspapers and Oklahoma literature in sight, reading all the time. Everybody seems to be for himself, rather jealous and suspicious of others than united by bonds of friendship. Some experienced frontiersmen say there will be no trouble of any sort at Lisbon, while others say it cannot be prevented. After Monday the soldiers cannot act except on request of the civil authorities, so the deputy marshals will have to do pretty much all the work of preserving order.

Liquor Will Be Absolutely Prohibited.

Capt. Woodson, of the Fifth cavalry, says he will search every outfit to make sure that there is no liquor of any description taken into Oklahoma. If he does he will prevent no less than a dozen men who are camped here with all the way from a ten-gallon keg to ten barrels of whisky, who intend opening saloons in Oklahoma.

A Bank Organized.

A bank has been organized here by prominent capitalists, which will open for business on the 25d at Lisbon (formerly Kingfisher).

Anticipates No Trouble.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Secretary Noble says the talk of alarmists about trouble in Oklahoma is nonsense. There is no fear felt by the government that there will be unusual lawlessness prevalent in the territory after it is thrown open to settlement; but with a view to guarding against any contingency of the sort, courts have been organized, deputy marshals have been agreed upon, and the army ready to help maintain peace. The secretary says:

"When 1,500,000 acres of land are suddenly thrown open to settlement there is naturally apt to be considerable hubbub and confusion, but the talk of armed resistance and murders in prospect for news matters is the veriest nonsense. So far as the interior department is concerned two land offices have been established in the new territory for the benefit of settlers, and everything will be conducted on business principles, and no partiality will be shown. Advices from Oklahoma state that a large concourse is preparing to make a descent on the land the 25d, but the military authorities will see to it that no trespassing occurs prior to the time set by the president's proclamation throwing the land open to settlers."

"The judicial arrangements for the government of Oklahoma are in the hands of the attorney general, and the secretary of war will give the necessary orders for the guidance of the troops in the much-coveted territory."

"Every precaution possible has been taken, therefore, to guard against lawlessness of any sort, and the problem of settlement will settle itself in this instance the same as in the past history of the United States."

One Boomer Kills Another.

OZARK, Mo., April 19.—A man named Johnson shot and killed one Norman, near Highlandville, this county, Wednesday. Both men were on their way to Oklahoma.

Over 2,300 Republican Postmasters Appointed in Three Weeks.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—During the first three weeks of the administration little was done with the postoffices owing to the pressure of other matters of greater importance, but for the fourth, fifth and sixth weeks, Mr. Clarkson has broken the record. Four years ago First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson made changes rapidly, but Mr. Clarkson has distanced all his predecessors.

In the fourth week of his administration of the office of first assistant postmaster general he appointed 719 Republican postmasters, and the next week there were 687 changes. Last week, which was the sixth, the record was badly smashed, 923 postmasters having been appointed, making in all for three weeks 2,329.

There have been over 500 appointments so far this week and there are no indications of a lull in the proceedings.

ley, of Kentucky, postoffice inspector, has been removed.

Anti-Jesuit Agitation in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 19.—At a meeting solution was adopted, calling for the disallow-ance of the Jesuit act, and stating that if intrigues do not cease their expulsion will be demanded.

THE CHICAGO.

The New Steel Cruiser Goes Into Commission.

LIVELY TIMES AMONG THE MARINES AT THE BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.

The Order from the Navy Department a Sudden One, Though Not Unexpected.
But Half Her Complement of Men on Board as Yet—All Her Guns Except the 8-Inch Rifles in Position.

New York, April 19.—The big steel cruiser Chicago went into commission at the Brooklyn navy yard Wednesday at 11:30 a.
m. The order came by wire from the navy department and, although not unexpected, was a sudden one. Before the commission pennant was flying from the main truck, 200 blue jackets had been marched aboard from the receiving ship, bags and hammocks in hand.

For the first time the Chicago is out of the hands of the navy yard bosses and machine shop foremen and under the control of regular navy officers. It was a pleasing sight to witness the activity aboard the big ship.

Up on the fore and foretop sail yards a half dozen "Jack Tars" were administering a coat of navy "spar composition," while in the military top, on the main mast, a knot of blue jackets were busily engaged in touching matters about the masts and on the shields.

So far only one-half of the Chicago's complement of men is aboard. She is entitled to about four hundred seamen and marines.
The ordering of the cruiser into commission so suddenly is considered due to the approaching centenary, for, although she is to be the flagship of the European station, it is not thought that she will be sent across the sea until the 1st of June at the earliest. As the present work aboard can be done by 300 men, the navy department may not decide to give her the full complement for the batteries until ready to send her abroad. To this plan navy officers demur, for they think that every one should be aboard at once, as there is nothing like learning the ropes and getting settled before leaving port; and especially since aboard of a new war vessel there is an endless amount of work. The supply of men aboard the receiving ship Vermont has been pretty well exhausted by the draft sent aboard the Chicago Wednesday, and it is very likely that the cruiser will get the remainder of her detail from the Boston navy yard, along with a number of apprentices from the training squadron at Newport.

All the guns of the Chicago are on board and mounted, except the big 8-inch rifles.
These latter pieces, which are ten in number, have not yet been mounted on their carriages. There is even some talk of placing 6-inch rifles in their stead, because the carriages are not yet ready to receive their mounts.

It is expected that the navy department will receive a good many requests during the next few days, now that the Chicago has gone into commission, from officers desiring to be assigned to her, presuming that it is time for them again to do sea duty.

As far as the ward room is concerned the new cruiser has comfortable and even luxurious quarters, but the steerage is execrable. That something ought to be done here for the ensign and naval cadets is the current opinion among navy officers, for it is simply abominable to crowd young officers into the hole called the steerage, while their seniors in rank occupy spacious and magnifcent quarters further aft. It is one of the faults with all the new vessels, and the younger naval officers grumbling all the harder among themselves now that they have got to go aboard.

It is urged that the Chicago should be painted white, like the Boston. Nothing is more striking than the sight of glittering brass, all ablaze, among the soft, white shades of a cruiser's top sides.

AN EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Mysterious Disappearance of $15,000 from the Brainerd, Minn., Office.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 19.—The Journal's Brainerd, Minn., special says: A package containing $15,000 in gold has mysteriously disappeared from the office of the Northern Pacific Express company in this city. Louis Hohman, the night clerk in charge, received from the train arriving at 1:45 a. m. Wednesday four sacks of specie; two of which contained $15,000 each in gold and two $500 each in silver. The money was consigned to the First National bank at this city by the Northern Pacific Railroad company to be used in paying employees of the road.

Hohman says he carried the specie with other express packages on his truck to the door of the express office. He is positive that he then carried all the specie into the vault and turned the combination. Half an hour later in checking up he discovered that one of the bags of gold was missing. He at once notified his superior, but a close investigation failed to reveal a clue to the missing money. Hohman has been in the employ of the express company for several years and is regarded as honest and faithful.

Killed With an Ax.

ANDERSON, Ind., April 19.—While chopping wood near Loper, eight miles west of here, Wednesday, John Weeks buried the blade of his ax in the back of E. Dean, killing him. The left lung was cut completely in two. Both men occupied the same house, and, it is reported, quarreled before the killing. Dean, in an ante-mortem statement, said he believed the blow to have been accidental. Weeks was arrested and placed in jail at Noblesville.

Yacht Match Arranged.

BOSTON, April 19.—The Eastern Yacht club Wednesday accepted Gen. Payne's offer of a challenge cup for international matches between yachts not exceeding seventy feet water line measurement and announced that a match of one or more races will be sailed for this cup after the race for the American cup, the owner of the Valkyrie having already promised to compete for it.

FRIDAY EVE, APRIL 19, 1889.

Notice to Democrats of Mason and Lewis.

The convention to select a candidate for State Senator to represent the counties of Lewis and Mason is called to meet at Maysville, Ky., Tuesday, May 14, 1889, at court house at 2 o'clock p. m.

THOS. J. CHENOWETH,
Ch'm Ninth Congressional District,
April 18, 1889.

Notice to the Democrats of Mason County.

The convention that meets in Maysville April 27th to select delegates to the convention in Louisville May 8th will also name the delegates to a Senatorial convention that meets in Maysville May 14th.

THOS. J. CHENOWETH,
Chairman Dem. Ex. Com.

It is very probable the Republicans will take up Senator Beck's measure to reduce letter postage to one cent and pass it. Of course it will not be the bill introduced by the Senator, but it will be one embodying similar provisions.

If there was a good barrel factory here, the three distillers would not go to Vanceburg and other points for the five thousand barrels used every year. This is one enterprise in which a little Maysville capital might be invested very profitably. And every little enterprise will benefit the city.

People who are complaining of "dull times" would very likely find other places just as dull as this city. A gentleman who was in Cincinnati recently remarked to the BULLETIN that he "never saw the Queen City quieter in a business way." But, it is difficult for some fellows to keep from grumbling. We have our grumblers with us always.

The Covington Commonwealth suggests the following: For Governor, J. W. Bryan, of Kenton; Lieutenant Governor, Emmet Logan, of Warren; Auditor, Milton J. Durham, of Boyle; Attorney General, John F. Hager, of Boyd. This is a capital ticket, and we believe would suit the Democrats of Mason to a man. Bryan, Logan, Durham and Hager are excellent fellows for the places named.

In the enterprising, wide-awake cities one will always find a commercial club, a Board of Trade, or some other organization of the citizens working for the advancement of the interests of the place. United effort is secured through these organizations, and where the citizens pull together they are better able to accomplish some good in building up their town. We need something of the kind here in Maysville.

SENATOR TURPIE says that there will be no tariff legislation under the present administration. He looks for such prodigal appropriations by the next Congress that the surplus will be wiped out, and the present enormous taxation continued until the Democrats succeed in obtaining the majority in both houses of Congress and the Presidency. This, by way of the Louisville Times, just about sizes up the situation. The Blair Educational bill, the Direct Tax Refunding bill, the Dependent Pension bill and such other Republican raids on the Treasury will soon clean it out. And there will be no reduction of the burdens of the people. The Republican plan is to burden the masses for the benefit of a few.

THE COLLECTORSHIP.

A Frankfort Man Joins in the Fight for the Plum-Stirring Up Goodloe.

The Washington correspondent of the Louisville Times sends his paper some interesting news in the following. He says: "A new and unexpected political fight for one of the Kentucky Collectorships has just burst into full bloom, and it will be beautiful to behold. Judge William H. Sneed, of Frankfort, filed his application for Collector of the Lexington district, and he has a line of endorsements that is simply superb.

"Colonel William Cassius Goodloe, who was supposed to be treading a primrose path of dalliance for the place, will find in Judge Sneed a foeman worthy of his 'snickersee.' Colonel Goodloe is close up to Mr. Blaine, but Judge Sneed is said to be right over Mr. Windom, the Secretary of the Treasury, whose peculiar prerogative it is to corral Collectors. Judge Sneed served with General Garfield in the Big Sandy expedition, and was promised the Collectorship under that gentleman, and would have secured it but for the assassination. Colonel Evans then opposed him with President Arthur, and he went to the board. Colonel Goodloe is looked for soon, and when he arrives, with his fur rubbed the wrong way, there will be whirlwinds, blizzards, cyclones, earthquakes and what not. General Robinson's term expires June 15th."

"To a man up a telegraph pole" it looks like this fight between Sneed and Goodloe will strengthen Captain Hutchin's chances very materially.

The "Old Hoss Sale."

Something new for Maysville in the way of public auctions will take place here on the 25th of May.

It is known among the agents and employees of the Adams Express Company as "the old hoss sale." Sometimes the charges on an express package are not paid, and at other times the party to whom a package is directed fails to call for it or refuses to receive it. Such packages are held by the company and are known as "old hosses." All the "old hosses" in each State are gathered together once a year and sold at public auction.

The "old hosses" that have accumulated in the company's offices throughout Kentucky will be sent here and sold on the 25th of May. These sales have heretofore been held at Lexington or Louisville. They are always well attended.

Entitled to the Best.

CHIC.

[From another Correspondent.] We have good prospect for another abundant crop of fruit of all kinds.

The article in your paper on Maysville and mention of the name of the illustrious Dr. Dan Drake reminds the writer of a little incident. In the spring of 1851, at University of Louisville, the old Professor then tottering with age, but of a strong, vigorous intellect, met me in that place so dreaded by aspiring medical students called the "green room," and after quizzing me to his satisfaction, inquired: "where are you from?" I answered: "Germantown, Mason county." "Well," he said, "I remember fifty years ago, passing through there on my way to Maysville to begin the practice of my trade, and it was then a sorry looking prospect for a town."

What the K. C. People Say of Our City in Their "Guide to the Blue Grass Region."

The BULLETIN is indebted to the Kentucky Central authorities for a copy of their "Guide to the Blue Grass Region of Kentucky." The "Guide" is handsomely illustrated and contains a brief description of the principal cities along the route of the K. C., together with other valuable information. In speaking of Maysville and Mason County, it says:

While not strictly belonging to the Blue Grass region, Mason County has areas, here and there, of very rich soil, much of it being as good as any in the State, but the county at large is generally broken and hilly, producing chiefly a type of tobacco known in this country as the "white burley," which, however, is grown in all the counties of Northern and Central Kentucky, but which in Europe is given the generic term of "Mason County." No greater offense can be given to a citizen of Mason, however, than to intimate that his county is not quite so good as Fayette or Bourbon; for in his eye it was made first, and what was left over, was just scattered around through the Blue Grass. Maysville, the seat of Justice, was founded in 1787 and bore the name of "Limestone" for several years, but it was afterwards changed to its present title in honor of John May, who was an original settler from Virginia and owned the location.

Enclosed within a perfect circle of hills that reach to the Ohio river above and below, the old city stands in one of the most beautiful spots imaginable, and is one of the leading ports between Pittsburg and Cincinnati; being substantially built and having a population of nearly 20,000, with handsome private residences and commodious public buildings. From the time that the Walters erected their block house (1781) to the present day, Maysville has always appeared to be the center of immigration and emigration. In the old days the settlers came down the river to "Limestone" and took the wagon road to Lexington (now the justly celebrated Maysville and Lexington turnpike), and at the present time there is no place or country, with the possible exception of Ireland, that has given so many people to the outside world. Go where you will throughout the United States, and you will find somebody from Maysville! So well is this migratory fact established, that it is stated on good authority that an American who was travelling on an Egyptian railway between Alexandria and Cairo, and who lost or mislaid an important article, asked loudly if there was "a gentleman from Maysville, Ky., in that car?" "Yes, sir," responded a voice, "I am." "Will you please lend me your corkscrew?" "Yes, sir, with pleasure." The "article" was produced, and the two drank to the health of the Sphinx and to dear old Kentucky.

A Soap Bubble To night.

This play will be presented at the opera house to-night for the first time here. Read the following from the Xenia, O., Bee, of last Tuesday morning:

The "Soap Bubble" was given at the opera house last night by Ed J. Connolly and his associate comedians and comedienne, for the second time in two weeks. The house was a jam from top to bottom, and the evening began in a roar and ended in a storm of laughter. It has been many years since so thoroughly an enjoyable comedy company has been here, and we do not remember any actor in that line except the late celebrated Sothorn, who is the equal in the height, and breadth of the humor of Mr. Connolly. The entire company and play was a great success.

The company deserves a crowded house to-night. They play in Louisville next week.

Death of Mrs. Elizabeth Perrine.

Mrs. Elizabeth Perrine died last evening at 6 o'clock of paralysis, at the family residence near Tuckahoe. The deceased belonged to some of the old and esteemed families of the county. She was eighty-five years old and was a native of Mason. Her maiden name was Lloyd. Her husband, the venerable Robert Perrine, survives her. She was the mother of nine children, six of whom are still living. These are Mrs. Judge Boulden, of Illinois; W. P. Perrine, of Nicholas County; and Mrs. Squire Pickett, Mrs. John R. Burgess and John J. and Robert Perrine, of this county.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the family residence. The remains will be entered in a private burying ground near Tuckahoe.

Railway News.

It is reported a new time-card will go into effect on the K. C. the 1st of May, by which the morning train from here will leave 45 minutes earlier than at present.

J. T. Harahan, Manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio Road, has issued a circular announcing the appointment of H. Frazier as Superintendent of Maintenance of Way.

The earnings of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, and Chicago Road for the second week of April show a decrease of $607.12 as compared with those for the corresponding week of last year.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says the "fast flying Virginian" and some other new trains will be put on the C. & O. the 12th of May, which will be 18 days earlier than was of late contemplated. This will be good news for the traveling public, and especially for that portion going to Old Point Comfort and the resorts of Virginia, including now the Natural Bridge, which has been acquired by the C. & O. by the purchase of the Richmond and Allegheny. The new trains will be vestibuled, with dining cars, &c., will be in all respects as fine as the Pullman Company ever turned out, with all modern provisions for safety, comfort and luxury which are desirable in the order named.

WASHINGTON CENTENNIAL.

The Approaching Celebration of the Inauguration of the First President.

Mr. L. W. Galbraith, County Superintendent of Public Schools, has received the following circular in reference to the approaching celebration of the inauguration of the first President of the United States:

FRANKFORT, KY., April 12th, 1889.—Dear Sir: In the opinion of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, it would be well for the County Superintendents of Common Schools in their respective counties, to secure as far as may be practicable, by the trustees, teachers and pupils of the common schools, a proper observance of the centennial of the inauguration of the first President of the United States, George Washington—"First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

With the inauguration of Washington, on April 30th, 1789, constitutional liberty was inaugurated, and within the century since, the triumph of our revolutionary aims has been confirmed by patriotic sons, in the secured establishment of free government, giving hope and heart to all the peoples of the earth. It, therefore, becomes us who are intimately concerned in the education of the children of our beloved Commonwealth, to take cognizance of the wonderful property which has attended our State and country within its first centennial of constitutional liberty.

Since the inauguration of Washington, our domain has expanded from eleven feeble States with an area of about 750,000 square miles and a population of about 3,500,000, to forty-two States and vast Territories, representing an area of about 3,600,000 square miles, and a population of about 60,000,000.

Then, let us as agents and instruments in the cause of popular education, invite tribute in our school-houses on the 30th day of April, 1889, to Almighty God for His manifold blessings to our State and country, imploring their continuance, under His Guidance, till time shall be no more.

In conclusion and in the language of Washington in his "Farewell Address," September 17th, 1796:

"Promote, then, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened." Very respectfully,

JOS. DESHA PICKETT,
Supt. of Public Instruction.

MISS AMY FAY will give a piano conversation at opera house May 6th, under the auspices of the Musical Club. The Chicago Evening Journal says: "Miss Fay is so widely known as an exquisite musician that it is always a rare treat to hear her play."

EVALINE WHALEY, colored, accidentally mashed one of her fingers very badly some weeks ago. The injury resulted in a cancerous growth, and amputation was found necessary. The operation was performed yesterday by Dr. Owens, assisted by Dr. Adamson.

It is reported the body of Eb. Cheney, the missing drummer, was found floating in the river near Foster yesterday, and that it bore marks of violence. The Captain of the Handy No. 2 was seen this morning. He had heard the report, but didn't know whether it was true, or not.

CHESTER is enjoying a little "hoon" this spring in the way of building. Messrs. Robert Dawson and Joseph Wallingford are each erecting a neat one-story frame cottage near Mitchell's Chapel, and Mr. James M. Woods is putting up a two-story frame residence near by. Mr. Richard Dawson will commence building a one-story frame cottage next week on the lot adjoining his brother's.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Col. John S. Jones has received the appointment as clerk of the United States snag boat E. A. Woodruff, and commenced work in Col. W. E. Merrill's office yesterday morning. Col. Merrill's selection for a clerk for the Woodruff will meet with the hearty approbation of the entire marine interest."

The Captain's Maysville friends will be glad to learn of his good fortune.

MAJOR D. J. BURCHETT, United States Marshal for the district of Kentucky, has appointed Rev. C. J. Howes as his chief clerk. Mr. Howes has been pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Louisville for two or three years. He is well known in this city, having served as Presiding Elder of the Covington district previous to going to Louisville. He was born in Paintsville, Johnson County, and has been a warm friend of Major Burchett for years. He does not expect his new duties to interfere with his services as pastor and has no notion of resigning his charge.

Stop in at the Red Corner and see the handsomest line of clothing and gent's furnishings ever brought to Maysville. This popular house is selling goods at small profit, in order to double immense sales of the past few months. The goods exhibited are of the latest styles and are not excelled by any other house in the State. The piece goods are beautiful, and the house is turning out some of the handsomest suits ever seen in this city. With such clever men as Captain John T. Martin and Mr. J. M. C. Ballenger in charge, the Red Corner is sure to become more popular than ever. They are certainly deserving of the fine patronage they are enjoying.

THE SLAVE TRADE

The African International Conference May Not Be Held.

ENGLAND ADVISED NOT TO INTERFERE WITH THE SLAVE TRADE

By Distillers, Cloth Manufacturers and Others, as It Would Damage Their Business—Riot in the North of Ireland Over the Arrest of a Professor—Various Other Notes From Abroad.

LONDON, April 19.—It is regarded in many quarters as exceedingly doubtful whether the much-talked-of African international conference will be held after all. Without England the results would not be important, and as Mr. Buxton's resolution has provoked a great deal of latent opposition in totally unexpected quarters, a good many people are asking why, after all, England should interfere with slavery in Africa.

The greater part of this feeling arises, it would seem, from jealousy of other nations and suspicion as to their motives. It is well known that remonstrances from many parts of the United Kingdom have been received by members of parliament, indicating that the spirit of trade is stronger than philanthropic motives in the most mercantile of all nations.

The shipowners of the great commercial ports, especially of Liverpool, and the principal distillers of the country, the cloth makers of Manchester and the manufacturers of Birmingham, protest against any undue interference of England with the slave trade, urging that enough is being done by naval efforts, and undoubtedly fearing that in the interval which must elapse between the suspension of commerce naturally arising from the change of conditions on the west coast, and its revival under a new state of affairs, a period of dullness would ensue that would prove ruinous to most of them. Despite professions no little jealousy continues to be felt of the persistent efforts to appropriate the most important harbors and trading stations on the east coast, and Belgian occupation on the west shore is viewed with no less uneasiness.

After public sentiment on the question of slavery has been dominated for so many years by the Exeter hall party it would appear singular if a retrogression of feeling should take place, but there is no doubt that a party holding opinions in favor of non-interference with it is springing up.

Cardinal Lavignerie's crusade is said in many quarters to smack more of the church militant than is consistent with the modern ways of thinking, and that the murder of a few Arabs in the cause of humanity would poorly compensate for the enormous expense and inevitable waste of European life that would attend the worthy churchman's proposed expeditions.

Thus humanitarianism, rum dealers and manufacturers of trinkets and idols, all declare that England would better attend to her own affairs; the former in some of the journals, particularly in The World, recommending a great deal more consideration than is now granted to the white slaves of London.

French Matters.

PARIS, April 19.—Deputy Andrieux asserts that on the eve of the election of M. Carnot to the presidency he was suddenly summoned to a meeting at M. Laguerre's house at which MM. Clemenceau, Laisant, Granel, Lockroy, Dreyfus, Rochefort, Deroulede, Boulanger and others were occupied in forming a cabinet to enable M. Grevy to retain office, and thus thwart M. Ferry's aspirations to the presidency. The meeting offered M. Andrieux the presidency of the cabinet. M. Andrieux declining to include Boulanger in the cabinet, the latter consented to hold aloof. M. Grevy, however, insisted upon resigning. M. Andrieux heard Boulanger utter nothing as alleged.

Lemaître and Dequille have come from Brussels to make arrangements for a demonstration by the French colony there in honor of Boulanger. The general has promised to attend the demonstration.

The senate commission appointed to conduct the trial of Gen. Boulanger have privately examined Gen. Sausser with reference to the charge that Boulanger corrupted officers of the Paris garrison.

The municipal council will give a banquet on May 11, at which will be present President Carnot, the cabinet, the foreign diplomatic representatives, mayors and other guests attending the opening of the exhibition.

An Arrest Causes a Riot.

LONDON, April 19.—Professor Harrison, of Balliol college, who was arrested at Don-eval for supplying with food and otherwise assisting besieged tenants in Gweedore, was arraigned before a magistrate in Londonderry Wednesday and committed to jail pending his trial at the sessions on Tuesday next.

While Professor Harrison was being conveyed to jail he was heartily cheered by the populace. The sergeant who was in charge of the policeman who arrested Professor Harrison ordered his men to "Beat the devil out of them," and Father Gildea, Boyle, Conybeare, O'Brien and O'Shea, and a reporter of The London Daily News, were roughly handled. Women were trampled upon by the crowd, and in some instances clubbed by the police. The excitement was intense, the populace being greatly enraged by the action.

William Not Ready to Die.

THE HAGUE, April 19.—The doctors who are in attendance upon the king of the Netherlands say that, if his majesty's present favorable symptoms continue, he will be able to resume his duties as a sovereign within a few weeks.

Father McFadden Admitted to Bail.

DUBLIN, April 19.—Father McFadden, arrested on a charge of being implicated in the murder of Police Inspector Martin, at Gweedore, has been admitted to bail, counsel for the crown consenting.

MAIL ROBBERY.

Pouch of Registered Letters Stolen in Chicago—The Thief Escapes.

CHICAGO, April 19.—The mail car on the Lake Shore road which left here at 7:45 Wednesday night was robbed before it had gotten out of the city limits. The thief secured the pouch containing about 100 pieces of registered mail for Cleveland, O., and was rifling the contents in an empty freight car between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets when detected by Watchman Dwyer. As Dwyer looked into the car the man jumped out through the door on the opposite side and escaped. He had opened about a dozen registered letters, and succeeded in getting away with their contents. The postoffice officials were notified, and Superintendent Montgomery went down to the car in person, and brought the pouch back. He would not express an opinion as to the probable amount of money stolen, nor did he know the name of the postal clerk in charge of the car.

Funds for the North River Tunnel.

NEW YORK, April 19.—An English syndicate has just subscribed the money necessary to complete the tunnel under the North river, work on which was abandoned some time ago. The amount subscribed is $550,000, equal to about $2,750,000, and this amount is secured by a mortgage given by the North River Tunnel company, in which the Farmers' Loan and Trust company and the members of the English syndicate are named as trustees. This mortgage was recorded in New Jersey last Tuesday. The money was subscribed on the report of a corps of English engineers who have been investigating the tunnel plans and who decided that it was possible to carry them out. It was said Wednesday that so pleased were these engineers with the original plans that they intended to utilize the ideas on which they were based in building a tunnel under the Ganges river.

Murder Will Out.

BARNESVILLE, O., April 19.—Sixteen years ago Thomas McCall, a son of Thomas McCall, a wealthy farmer, mysteriously disappeared. His father searched in vain, and offered large rewards in hope of finding his son, but to no avail. The mystery was solved Monday, when Josephus McCall, a brother, who is at the point of death, confessed to killing his brother, and throwing his body into an old well on the premises. He says that he killed his brother during a quarrel, and knowing that he will die, makes this his dying and truthful confession. There is great excitement in the neighborhood over the revelation. Josephus, the self-confessed murderer, is about 40 years of age, and bears a hard name.

Streets Paved With Copper.

DULUTH, Minn., April 19.—Workmen excavating for the Masonic temple on the principal business street of the city, 200 feet from the city hall, discharged a series of blasts in solid rock, laying bare several large nuggets of pure copper and lots of smaller ones mixed with grayish white spar rock. At first it was thought that only a big pocket had been struck, but Capt. McIntyre, the expert of the Calumet and Hecla mine, was sent for, and as soon as he reached the spot he said: "It is the finest prospect I ever saw. Calumet and Hecla is not nearly so good."

Five Men Drowned.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., April 19.—At the Alabama Midland crossing of the Chattahoochee river two boats with seven and eight men, respectively, were crossing the river, when one of the boats commenced sinking and one of the men jumped to the other boat and capsized both boats. Five men were drowned. They were hands working for G. A. Alexander, breaking rock for the Alabama Midland bridge. The rock river was dragged, but none of the bodies was recovered.

Another of the James Gang Free.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 19.—Bill Ryan, the Missouri train robber and associate of Jesse James, was released from the penitentiary Monday. He was sentenced for twenty-five years for complicity in the Glendale train robbery on the Chicago and Alton road in October, 1879, but Governor Morehouse, a short time before his retirement from office, commuted the sentence to seven and one-half years. Ryan has been a good prisoner.

Killed His Sister.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 19.—At 1 o'clock Wednesday night Joe Tatum, of South Pittsburg, was disturbed by the fighting of two cats that had strayed into the room occupied by his sister, Miss Nanette Tatum. Securing a revolver he fired at the cats, but the bullet missed them and entered his sister's brain, causing instant death. The deceased was 19 years old. Tatum is prostrated with grief.

Whisky Trusts Doings.

PEORIA, Ill., April 19.—At Wednesday's meeting of the Western Distillers' and Cattle Feeders' association, otherwise known as the whisky trust, the only change in administration was an arrangement by which a representative of the eastern dealers' trust was admitted.

WIFE-MURDERER HANGED.

John H. Swift Pays the Penalty of His Crime at Hartford, Connecticut. HARTFORD, Conn., April 19.—John H. Swift, the wife-murderer, was hanged at 10:16 a. m. in the jail yard. His neck was broken by the fall.

Swift was married when only 19 years old. His wife was two years his senior. She was forced to leave him on account of his idle and dissipated habits. On July 7, 1887, he publicly declared his intention to kill her. This declaration was made in a saloon where he was employed as a piano player. To emphasize his remarks he drew a revolver and flourished it around for several seconds.

A few hours later Swift met his wife returning home from the shop in which she was employed. Swift asked her to live with him. She refused, and frightened by her husband's manner started to run away. The latter then fired the shot that caused her death. She lived long enough to make a brief anti-mortem statement. Swift petitioned the legislature for a commutation to imprisonment for life. A resolution granting the commutation was passed, but the governor vetoed it. The senate passed the resolution over the veto, but the house sustained the veto.

Shot Her Husband in Self-Defense.

BUTLER, Pa., April 19.—About 4 o'clock Wednesday morning James Fields was fatally shot by his wife. Mrs. Fields was reading a book, and her husband ordered her to come to bed. She refused to do so, when he got up and struck her. She went to a bureau drawer and took out a revolver, telling him if he hit her again she would shoot him. He then struck her in the face, when she fired the revolver, inflicting a fatal wound. Before dying Fields made a sworn statement exonerating his wife, in which he stated that she had shot in self-defense. When Mrs. Fields appeared at the coroner's inquest her face was unmarked almost beyond recognition. She is still at liberty.

Benson Denied a New Trial.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., April 19.—William Benson, aged 22, the cold blooded murderer of Capt. Jacob Mottweiler, five miles west of this city on the 9th day of last December, was Wednesday denied a new trial by Judge Ferguson and sentenced to be hanged Aug. 16. The sentence is the first one under the Indiana law that directs all executions to take place in the state penitentiary.

Deadly Crash of a Tree.

WESTON, W. Va., April 19.—In an adjoining county Tuesday a man named Perry Wine was felling a tree, when it fell on his residence, tearing down the building and killing his wife and three children.
